The session may be postponed or cancelled due to unsafe weather, site conditions or other safety concerns. Registered attendees will be contacted using the details provided.

Safety and preparation

Review this page before attending, with your support person if you will bring one.

What to bring

· If needed, bring your own carer, support worker or authorised support person.

• Drinking water, hat, sunscreen and weather-appropriate clothing.

• Enclosed, non-slip footwear suitable for a jetty environment.

• Any required medication, communication aid, mobility aid and personal support items.

• $10 cash payment for the participant session fee.

Essential safety expectations

• Follow supervisor instructions and remain within the designated fishing area.

• Do not enter the water, climb railings or sit on the jetty edge.

• Check the casting area and wait for clearance before casting.

• Keep hooks covered or controlled when equipment is not in use.

• Ask a supervisor for help with hooks, tangled line or equipment concerns.

• Fishing must pause if wildlife, members of the public or changing conditions create a risk.

• Current South Australian fishing, species, gear and Adelaide Dolphin Sanctuary rules apply.

Individual suitability

CCTS may request further information or additional controls where a participant has mobility or balance concerns, seizures, impaired water awareness, behaviours that may create a risk near water, significant communication needs, allergies or another relevant health concern. A suitable lifejacket may be required following individual and site risk assessment.

Medical and emergency response

A first-aid officer and first-aid kit will be onsite. In an emergency, staff may call emergency services and the nominated emergency contact. Attendees and accompanying support workers must retain access to required medication and current emergency information.

Photography

Photographs may be taken during the session. Identifiable images will only be used by CCTS where the participant, or their authorised representative, has provided consent on the photography consent form in this pack. Declining photography consent will not prevent participation.
